No games played yesterday; teams traveling.

Portland, Ore., Aug. 17.—Despite five errors and some lackluster playing, Portland defeated the University of Chicago ball tossers yesterday 7-2 before a crowd of not to exceed 500 fans. Gus Fisher dropped two throws at the home plate and let in both Chicago tallies or it would have been a shutout. Gus' errors likewise forced Walter McCredie to bench his young pitcher, Gerick, after four innings in the box, because he didn't want to take any chances of losing to a bunch of amateurs.

Watching the Scoreboard

Philadelphia, with Nishans and Killifer, worked the double squeeze in the seventh and made it three straight from the Braves.

Ben Paschell, from down Alabama way, wearing Cleveland clothes, placed a fly in the outcourt of Boland's no-hit game when he rapped out a single in the ninth.

Boland had to be content with the one-hit game, and call it a "lucky punch."

Detroit took both games from Cleveland. Walker had a bad inning and the Tigers grabbed the winning lead in the first.

Giants waited until the ninth, then tied Brooklyn and won in the tenth. Lubert singled, stole second and came home on Meyer's hit.

AURORA HOP NOTES

Letters received here from Germany state that few hops will be grown this year in Belgium or Galicia. The yield of acreage is given as follows: Austria-Hungary, 12 per cent; Bavaria, 20 per cent; Holland, 8 per cent; East and West Prussia, 15 per cent, and Alsace Lorraine, 20 per cent.

The continued ravages of vermin has caused many farmers to cut down their estimates of the probable yield this fall. The Portland supply houses report that this season's demand for spraying material has been the largest ever known in the state, and orders are still going in from this section.

The J. D. Lafgren hop yard at Needy is said to be one of the best yards of the Clatsop county hop district. It has been sprayed twice and the prospects are good for a fine crop of the best quality.

The Fred Yergens yard is said to be one of the best in this whole section. It has been thoroughly sprayed and there is every prospect of a fine quality hop with a large yield. This yard is worked by Charlie Wong, but white pickers harvest the crop.

The uncertainty of the Oregon crop outlook makes both growers and dealers disposed to refrain from doing business at present. Favorable weather will do much to improve the quality of the Oregon hop, and though the yield will certainly be considerably reduced locally, it is probable that the quality will be better than is now generally anticipated. The thorough spraying that the majority of the growers have given their yards will contribute greatly to improved quality.

J. U. Clark, vice-president of the Oregon Hop Growers' association, and G. A. Slinkins were inspecting a number of yards in this section yesterday. Mr. Clark pronounced the Slinkins yard the best he had seen in all his travels for the past two weeks through all the hop sections of the valley. He says the Aurora section shows up better than any he has seen. He estimates the Oregon crop at less than 75,000 bales.

The Slinkins hop yard on the Muckee estate is now almost free of vermin, though part of their yard has not been sprayed, while other parts have been sprayed twice. The fire and honeydew will reduce the yield, but the hops are coming on rapidly and are bright and clean, with every prospect of a good yield and a fine quality.—Observer.

Ponce de Leon Failed; His Prize Is Found

Ponce de Leon, the daring explorer, searched among the swamps of Florida for the Fountain of Youth, which the Indians said would restore power and make people young. He did not find it.

Thousands of chronic intestinal, bowel and stomach sufferers have written to Geo. H. Mayr, 125 Whiting St., Chicago, in quest of health. They have found it. His remedy, composed of healing vegetable oils from France, has indeed given them back the health of youth.

Why suffer from indigestion, gases on the stomach, fainting spells, torpid liver, constipation and all the evils of a disordered stomach when there is permanent relief here? Mary's Wonderful Remedy is sold by leading druggists everywhere with the positive understanding that your money will be refunded without question or quibble if ONE bottle fails to give you absolute satisfaction.

MORGAN IN HIS OFFICE

New York, Aug. 16.—For the first time since he was shot by Frank Holt, at his Long Island home, J. P. Morgan appeared at his office today. He arrived without a guard. The financier declared he was "feeling fine."

CITY WILL PAVE BUT PROPERTY OWNERS TO PAY OR REMONSTRATE

Collection of $3,000 Donation Is Put Up To Property Owners

The city council at a quiet session last night passed resolutions authorizing the advertising of the intentions to pave the Portland road and the Fairgrounds road and the new "Jitney" ordinance was read twice by title only to be fully discussed at the next meeting of the council September 7. It is required that the city advertise the intention to improve the Portland road and the Fairgrounds road for 10 days to give the property owners time to remonstrate against the improvement.

The petitions for improvement which were presented at a previous meeting asked that the roads be improved at a cost of not more than 50 cents per square yard for the Portland road and of not more than 60 cents for the Fairgrounds road. It was stated in the petition that the state highway commission had promised to give $2,000 toward this improvement and that the merchants of the town had promised another thousand dollars, the city had promised to do the grading so that the work could be done for a cost of not more than 60 cents per square yard to the property owners.

The question was raised last night as to who would pay the deficit in case the work could not be done by the city for 60 cents per square yard and it was explained by Mayor White that the $3,000 spoken of was in the nature of a donation and a rebate to the property owners. If the pavement could be put down at an ultimate cost of not more than 60 cents per square yard, all well and good, but that if it could not be put down at this price the owners of abutting property must stand the bill. The city rejected all bids offered for this work and decided to put down bituminous concrete pavement No. 4 on both roads, the work to be done by day labor with the city's machinery.

It was stated that many of the property owners of this road were under the impression that the city guaranteed to put down the pavement at a cost of not more than 60 cents when the petition was accepted by the council but it was explained by Councilman Mayr that the declaration of intention to pave was so worded that the city would put the pavement down at the lowest possible cost and if the property owners received the expected donations that the cost would probably not exceed 60 cents per square yard. If the people along the Fairgrounds road doubted the good faith of either the highway commission or the down-town merchants they should remonstrate against the paving as the entire cost must be assessed to the abutting property.

A communication was read from the Commercial club asking permission to erect a canvas shelter and shelves for a public market on the north side of Perry street just east of Liberty street. The petition was signed by George C. Will, E. Eckerlein and V. Nalstank property owners and George F. Rodgers, U. O. Shipley and John H. Scott, the committee from the Commercial club. The petition was granted.

A report of the street committee recommending the widening of A street and North Liberty street was adopted. The special committee reported that there was nothing in the papers held by the company to require the covering of the ditch on Division street from Front to High street as requested by the council and that the matter was to be pressed further. A petition for a light on Waller street between Fifteenth and Turner road was rejected, and lights were recommended at the intersection of Fourteenth and Trade and Fourteenth and Bellevue.

The city recorder was authorized to purchase six Corey hydrants and fittings. The P. E. & E. Ry. company asked permission to abandon their franchise on Seventeenth street from the intersection of Jefferson street to the north city limits. It was explained that the fairgrounds had been fenced up against the car line and there was no necessity of running their line over this property. The ordinance was passed revoking the franchise in this line as described.

A petition was presented to refund private owners of property in the vicinity of Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth and Chemeketa streets who had put in their own sewers. Councilman McClellan favored refunding the money expended by these people but the proposition failed to carry as it was stated that this would open up the way for the refund of thousands of dollars to other property owners who had put in their own sewers and that no provision was made in the budget for this extra expense.

The part of the billiard and pool ordinance prohibiting side and back doors was amended. An ordinance was passed requiring all banks in which city funds were deposited to put up a surety bond or in lieu thereof to deposit with the city treasurer suitable bonds to the amount of the funds deposited.

Some Forest Service Statistics For the Fiscal Year 1915

Portland, Ore., Aug. 17.—Figures just compiled by the forest service covering its work in Washington and Oregon for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1915, show, among other things, that the service has built 90 miles of road, 320 miles of trail, and 625 miles of telephone line, besides erecting 12 bridges and 30 lookout stations.

The detailed figures give the Oregon forests 85 miles of road, 266 miles of trail, 455 miles of telephone wire, 5 bridges and 27 lookouts; while in the Washington forests have been added 5 miles of road, 159 miles of trail, 170 miles of telephone, 7 bridges and 3 lookouts. The bridges represent only structures costing over $100. Small bridges over culverts and the like are ranked as part of the road. For administrative purposes the service has also built in Oregon 24 cabins, 8 barns, 20 miles of pasture fence, and developed 10 springs; and in Washington it has erected 12 cabins and 1 barn, built 10 miles of pasture fence and developed 9 springs. The rangers have done a large part of the labor necessary in making these improvements.

It is the policy of the service to develop communication as rapidly as funds will permit, not only because roads and trails and telephones mean better protection for the forest wealth which the government is guarding, but because these means of communication also make the national forests more accessible to the general public. To date, in Washington and Oregon, over 4000 miles each of trail and telephone have been built, and 101 bridges and 55 lookouts have been erected. Of the bridges, seven are of suspension type.

WILL NOT BUY BALL CLUB.

Pasadena, Cal., Aug. 16.—Warren N. Carter of Pasadena will not buy the Cincinnati Reds, Carter's option expired today and he wired Harry Herrmann that he would not exercise it. Further than this, Carter would say nothing today except that he expected to leave for Cincinnati in a few days.

Georgians Are Indignant Over Frank Lynching

and the state does not look with approval upon such an act."

Frank's body was not cut down until after a number of speeches had been made under the tree from which he was hanged. One man urged that the body be mutilated, Judge Morris, who was on the scene, opposed such an act, and urged that order be observed at all costs. The crowd then voted against mutilation of the body. It was lowered from the tree and placed in a basket on a wagon to be taken to Marietta, where the inquest was to be held later.

As the wagon started off mutterings were again heard, threatening mutilation of Frank's body. Pointing the threats might be carried out, Judge Morris came alongside the wagon in his automobile, lifted the corpse to his machine and sped toward Atlanta.

Two hundred automobiles set out in pursuit of the judge. At Smyrna, Roger Winter, an Atlanta newspaperman, accompanying Judge Morris, leaped out and telephoned to his paper that the body was coming and was being buried.

Despite the pleadings of Judge Morris, several men stamped Frank's face with their heels as the he lay on the ground or under the death tree before being placed on the wagon from which it was afterward taken.

An undertaker met the automobile of Judge Morris, returning here with the corpse ahead of the pursuing machines. Though it was known this afternoon that Frank's body was in town, its hiding place was kept secret.

The Cobb county commissioners employed special officers and a special prosecutor this afternoon to investigate the lynching of Frank and endeavor to round up the men responsible. The coroner opened an inquest at Marietta.

Mrs. Frank Leaves Prison.

Milledgeville, Ga., Aug. 17.—Accompanied by a physician and a nurse, the widow of Leo Frank left here at 11 o'clock for Athens, where her uncle lived. Although Mrs. Frank knew her husband had been kidnaped from the state prison farm during the night, she was not told he had been lynched until just as she was boarding the train.

Mrs. Frank swooned when first told that her husband had been carried away by a mob, but apparently had steered herself for the news which was expected to follow. She was hurried on to the train by her physician and nurse but appeared to bear up better than had been expected.

Even a King can't dictate what you should like or not like

If it so happened that Fatimas were originally "Made and blended for the King of Whatiz"—would that fact prove that you were going to like Fatimas best? It would not.

A man's taste is his own. A cigarette that might delight some old potentate's palate would not necessarily please you.

That's why we leave Fatimas up to your taste.

But there is something more than good taste that is mighty important to you.

No matter how good-tasting a cigarette may be—it can only be the SENSIBLE cigarette for you if it is comfortable, too.

Its pure tobacco must be cool and comfortable to your throat at all times. And it must leave you feeling fine and fit at the end of a hard-smoking day.

Will it do all that?

Then, it is the sensible cigarette for YOU.

There are thousands and thousands of men who believe that Fatima is the most sensible cigarette there is.

Try them yourself. You may discover—as these thousands of other men have—that Fatimas
